

Meeting Room Policy and Guidelines

The Stratford Library offers three meeting rooms for public use The Lovell Room, located on the main level, features auditorium style seating accommodating up to 80 people. Tables, a podium and multi-media equipment are available. The Board Room is situated in the library's lower level and is arranged in meeting room style: oak tables and chairs with seating for approximately 20-25 people. The Conference Room, adjacent to the Board Room features a single, round table and seating for 4 people. The Board and Conference Rooms may be booked in tandem for use by a single group. The Lovell and Conference Rooms have adjacent kitchens. All rooms are accessible for persons with disabilities.

Library functions have first priority for use of the meeting rooms and the Library reserves the right to preempt non-library use. Programs may be sponsored or cosponsored by the Library in order to accomplish its mission and to provide educational, informational and recreational opportunities for the community. When the rooms are not needed for Library activities, nonprofit and for profit organizations serving the Stratford community may use the meeting rooms for educational, civic and/or cultural programs. No private individual use of the meeting rooms is permitted.

The Stratford Library, the Board of Trustees of the Stratford Library, the Town of Stratford, the Director, employees and volunteers assume no responsibility for loss, theft, or damage of any property of any group or individual using the Library's meeting rooms or kitchen facilities, and in addition, assume no responsibility for the personal injury (including death) of any individual using the meeting rooms or kitchens.

The Public Relations & Programming Office (203-385-4162) makes all advance reservations for meeting room use. Requests for use of a meeting room must be made by completing an application. Applications must be signed by an individual at least eighteen (18) years of age. Rooms are NOT available for use on a regular continuing basis by any organization unless by prior consent of the Library. The group using the meeting room must assign one person responsible for the proper use of the room in accordance with the Library's guidelines. Rooms are available on a first come, first served basis and may be reserved no more than three (3) months in advance.

No other rooms in the Library are available for public use, unless by prior consent of the Library.
