NEW BOOKS FROM 2020

	The Love Story of Missy Carmichael by Beth Morrey Missy used to have a busy life, but now she drinks, avoid people, and putters around her house. Then she faints in the park, meets friendly strangers, and gets to know a dog named Bob.	For fans of “Man Called Ove” and “Eleanor Oliphant is Completely Fine”.
	The Splendid and the Vile: A Saga of Churchill, Family, and Defiance During the Blitz by Erik Larson Using diaries, original documents, and intelligence reports, Larson provides a fascinating look into WWII London through the day-to-day experiences of Churchill and his family. Already a bestseller!	For history fans who love “reads-like-fiction”.
	Sigh, Gone: A Misfit's Memoir of Great Books, Punk Rock, and the Fight to Fit In by Phuc Tran Tran came to the US in 1975, during the fall of Saigon. In this engaging memoir, he uses the themes of classic books to reveal his struggle to assimilate, isolation, the teenage years, and rigid parental expectations.	For biography fans who like well-written coming-of-age stories.
	The Women with Silver Wings: The Inspiring True Story of the Women Airforce Service Pilots of World War II by Katherine Sharp Landdeck Pilots Nancy Love and Jacqueline Cochran, the Women Airforce Service Pilots (WASP) were not authorized to serve in combat, but helped to train male pilots for service abroad, ferried bombers, & more. 38 WASP would not survive the war.	For fans of nonfiction like “Hidden Figures”.
